Information:

Mayon Volcano is a very active volcano in the situated on the Bicol Peninsula of the Philippines. The volcano has an elevation of 2,643 m (8,081ft). Aptly dubbed as "the perfect volcano", it is at the centre of Mayon Volcano National Park and is a major tourist attraction because of its perfect symmetry. It's beauty and splendor rivals that of Japan's Mount Fuji. The volcano has erupted more than 48 times since the first recorded eruption of the volcano occurred in the early 17th century. The most notable and destructive eruption happened in 1814, when the nearby town of Cagsawa was buried. The church bell tower is what remains of the town.
